About Me

I am a full stack developer who lives in Fortaleza, CE.

I started playing with programming at the age of 12 and since then I have played with a considerable amount of languages; from mainstream ones, going through functional to really esoteric ones.

I consider myself a web alchemist who is always trying new technologies and specially playing with cool stuff. Nowadays I study IT at Instituto Federal do Ceará and try to be as active as possible at local communities like Dev I/O Fortaleza, Ionic Brazil, The Lambda I/O Foundation, JS4Girls Fortaleza and other ones.

My passions include the full stack design and implementation of projects, open source stuff and programming communities.
